Editor's Note

Last year was a beginning, this year was filled with repetitious ideas, and lots of hard work. The 1986 Maple Trail seemed to elude me all year long. There was still chaos and confusion. I figured that I was one year older and one year wiser and I hoped for the yearbook to come together beautifully. Wrong! The deadlines still haunted me. I never seemed to have the time to take the picture or write the copy. But, finally the time came and the Maple Trail came together.

It seems as though freshman week had just ended and homecoming was history when graduation rolled around. I feel like all these pages are for the senior class. The theme of the Maple Trail is "Now For Something Better." It is for the graduates time for something better. I hope I have captured a part of their personality in these pages.

The Theme seemed to depict the freshman class as they were beginning to strive for something better. They had begun their four year search of knowledge and good times.

I will flatter myself, and hope that everyone will find something that they can relate to or find pleasure in. It is a thrill to me when I know that a picture allowed someone to remember a great moment or some copy reminded them of many forgotten details. I guess that was my goal when I started this project.

Well, I have used up enough space and I haven't thanked anyone. I would like to thank Public Relations and Joan McKinney for all of her help. Thanks to the newspaper staff, Cynthia Williams for her pictures, the Maple Trail Staff, Dr. Doty, and everyone who helped me along the way. A special thanks has to go to my special friends: Sherry, "the family," and everyone who has helped me survive these three years.

ENJOY!

Fall Carnival

Fourteen clubs and organizations participated in the third Fall Carnival, October 5, on the lawn of Stapp Hall. The carnival had a threefold purpose Randy Weaver, student development associate, commented. "It is to raise money for clubs and organizations to operate on throughout the year," to help students "fellowship and make new friends," and to serve as "a public relations effort or our part to involve the community in campus events."

Among the groups that participated were the Art Club, Stapp Hall, BSU, Women's Basketball Team. Horseback riding was also a hit. It was sponsored by the Church Music Conference. Stapp Hall was filled with good food, exciting booths, and warm smiles on a chilly October day.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS. The first week of school seniors dominate and freshmen try to survive and find their place at Campbellsville. Each new freshman must find their identity amongst the college atmosphere.

All freshmen wear the traditional college beanies. Activities include freshmen-senior olympics, various dress-up days, shaving creme fights. A week full of nonsense to relieve some tension to begin a fresh semester.

'Tis the Season

The Christmas Celebration is a magical night on the campus of Campbellsville College. The gym is transposed into a dining room and a stage, filled with good food and magical performances. When you are away from home during the Christmas holidays it is hard to capture the spirit of the season. The celebration kindles the fire and sparkles the eyes of the children with anticipation. The night was filled with music and fellowship. The night ends with the lighting of the Christmas tree. The tree fills the student with anxiousness to return home for the holidays. It is indeed a season to be jolly!

HOMECOMING '86

Homecoming 1985 — "The Best Ever"

"Welcome to the Wonderful World of Disney." Homecoming 1985 was without a doubt the most successful homecoming ever. The weekend of November 22 and 23rd will be remembered by many as the best weekend at school. The week was filled with new and exciting events. On Monday, November 18, homecoming week was kicked off with Western Dress Day and an Old Fashioned Hoedown. The pace changed with Tuesday bringing Hawaiian Dress Day and one of the most successful events, the Hawaiian Luau in the cafeteria.

The traditional faculty/student volleyball game was held in the Athletic Center. The week was concluded with Hat and T-shirt day and school colors day. A favorite of the student body and the athletes was a pep rally held on Main Street in Campbellsville.

Friday brought to the delight of everyone, Jerry Clower, country humorist. Clower thanked his pastor Rev. James F. Yates of First Baptist Church in Yazoo City, Mississippi for bringing him to Campbellsville. Reverend Yates was a 1945 graduate of Campbellsville College. Some 655 persons were in attendance.

On Saturday, the parade was especially colorful with the "Salute to Disney" theme. Alpha Rho Tau won the Grand Master float award. The parade was led by Grand Marshals, Mickey and Minnie Mouse. Saturday afternoon alumni visited the division get-togethers and just naturally found old friends to spend time together. Late that evening, both the Tigers and the Lady Tigers had victories on the basketball court. The capacity crowd watched as the Tigers rolled over Brecia College Bearcats 101 to 87. The Lady Tigers posted a strong victory, 101 to 40 by defeating St. Catharine College. The night was not finished yet. The week was wound up with the crowning of Miss Audra Wilcox of Madisonville. The first runner-up was Monica Vaught of Cincinnati, Ohio. Second runner-up was Tammy Smith of Mount Washington, KY and Third runner-up was Carol Combs of Oneida. The freshman attendant was Nancy Cox of Campbellsville. Audra Wilcox represented the Sophomore Class. Following the game, Audra was honored with a reception in the Little Auditorium. She was greeted by alumni and friends. I am not quite sure if all of this captures or even summarizes all of the excitement of this homecoming week.

Student Government Homecoming Chairperson, Pam Hardy spent many long and hard hours coordinating everything. Pam Hardy is a junior at Campbellsville College. She deserves a big thanks for all her hard work this homecoming. HOMECOMING 1985 — THE BEST EVER!

THE RIGHT STUFF

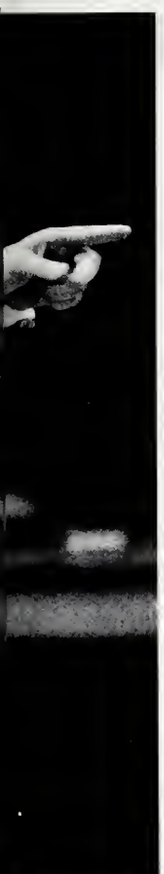
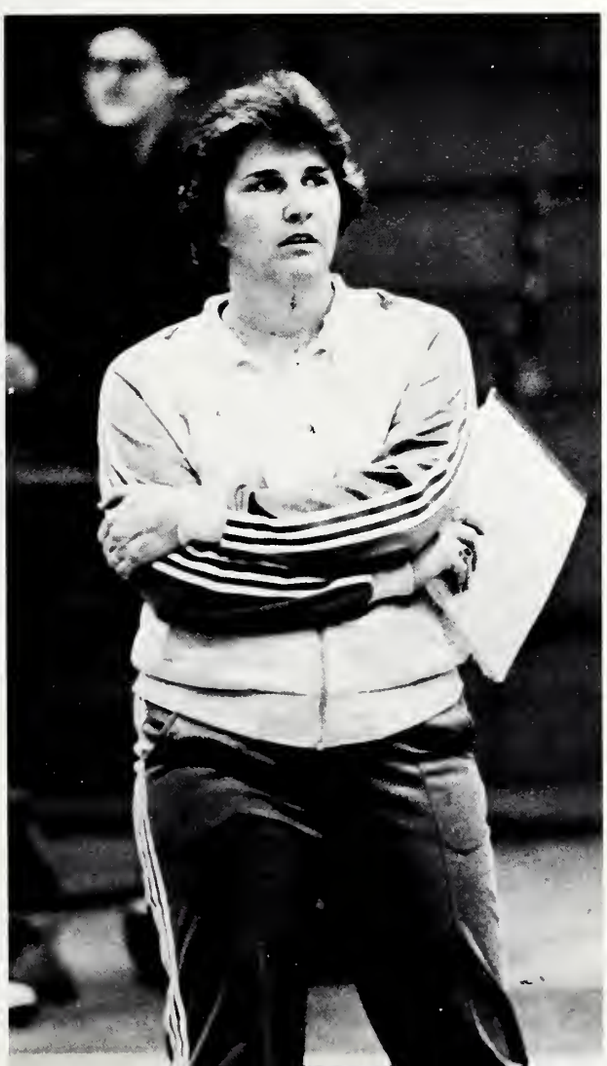
By Melissa York

"Hard work, discipline, and enjoyment" are three things that Lady Tiger Coach Donna Wise feels makes one successful.

Wise should know. In her eleventh year of coaching basketball, she is ranked thirteenth among all women coaches in the National Association of Intercollegiate athletics and a victory against Alice Lloyd Jan. 16 gave her 200 wins.

Wise concentrates on not "overcoaching." She doesn't make the team follow a strict diet or sleeping plan. She advises them to "eat well, sleep, and stay away from things that will harm their playing ability. Also, before games, the team prays and reconsiders their offensive and defensive plays with emphasis on defensive play. She contributes her success to the kids she's had over the years here. She is "proud of people's progress and likes to see students be successful." Some more "Wise" advice to young people wanting success is to "learn self-discipline and determination."





Coach Wise and the Lady Tigers realize the value in preparation. The Lady Tigers crew prepare for the season through a strenuous weight-lifting and conditioning program. The team began to get excited as their season drew nearer. Coach Wise anticipated her 11th season.

The Lady Tigers made their debut with a 101-40 victory over St. Catherine. The Lady Tigers were led by Senior Roseanne Conlan, KIAC Player of the Year, and Junior center, Franseda Gunn, NAIA All-District Player of the Year. Senior Missy Gill added strength on the boards as the teams leading rebounder. Freshman Susie Christie added strength with her outside shooting threat. Lori Cook rounded out the starting lineup with valuable experience in her wing position.

THE RIGHT STUFF

The Lady Tigers held strong through their pre-Christmas schedule. The ladies finished with a second place during the Davis & Elkins Mountain Classic over Christmas break. The Tigers claimed their first tournament victory against Kutztown, Pennsylvania and then beating Wright State. The Lady Tigers lost to Mercy, New York in the finals 67-64.

Returning home the Lady Tigers edged past Georgetown and followed by downing Alice Lloyd to give Wise her 200th game. Gunn scored 29 points followed by Conlans 28. The Lady Tigers went on to win the KIAC tournament over Alice Lloyd 72-63.

The Lady Tigers pulled out a one point victory during the semi-final game of the NAIA District 32 playoffs over Transylvania 54-53.

The Lady Tigers faced a strong, experienced Cumberland Team. The Lady Tigers could not overcome an injury to senior leader Roseanne "Jose" Conlan. The Lady Tigers dropped 70-59 to Cumberland. Senior Lori Cook had her best performance scoring 20 points and 9 rebounds. The Lady Tigers ended an impressive season with 23 wins and 8 losses. These fine athletes definitely had THE RIGHT STUFF!

Lady Tiger Softball

The Lady Tigers worked hard and found themselves reaching strides never seen by any other women's softball team at Campbellsville College. The talented ladies played their way to a 31-1 season record and a KWIC championship. Campbellsville defeated Transylvania 11-1 and Cumberland 4-2. The Lady Tigers faced a strong Union team, which handed them their only loss early in the year, and defeated them 13-8 and the tournament final 4-0. Rosanne Conlan, Sherry Brooks, and Karen Sweazy were all named to the KWIC All-tournament team. The Lady Tigers went on the win with KIAC tournament, they finished the season with a 35-2 record.

The Tiger baseball team began preparing early for their tough 56 game schedule. Coach Danny Davis looked to seniors Richard Mudd, Mark Bryant, Chuck Good, and Mark Bugg for pitching strength. Senior Kelly Connaughty, Charles Sehlke will add experience in the outfield. Through the season the tigers got help on the mound by Billy Wiseman and Mike Pollock. The Tigers passed the 20 win game mark with a win 10-5 over Berea. Charles Sehlke, David Decker, and John Scott gave the Tigers hitting strength.

With the tournament time nearing the Tigers swept Alice Lloyd 10-0 and 8-2 in a KIAC doubleheader. Richard Mudd notched his fifth win of the season. Charles Sehlke, Dave Decker, John Scott and Billy Wiseman each had RBI hits. Sehlke paced the Tigers in batting with a solid .440 average, Decker is next with .397 average, Kelly Connaughty checks in at .380 and leads the team with six homers. The Tigers finished a fine season with a 38-15-1 record.

The team placed fifth in the Centre College Invitational on March 26 and seventh in the Bellermine College Invitational on March 31. Walker placed second overall at Bellermine where 15 teams participated. The team cut 27 strokes off their total score from Centre to Bellermine. TIGER BASKETBALL Coach Lou Cunningham faced his toughest assignment as he began his 14th year at Campbellsville College basketball. The Tigers were faced with replacing four starters. The only returning starter was sophomore Rob Daley.

The Tigers turned on for their first home game by defeating Brescia 101-87. Keenan Bridgewater led all scoring with 37 points. Aubrey Fritz scored 27 points, and Rob Daley had 23 points. The Tiger team is small in size but has great quickness and jumping ability.

Midway through the season the Tigers were led by Bridgewater averaging 21.8 points, Daley leading rebounder with 8.8. Aubrey Fritz shoots from the free throw line 66% and 50% from the field. Doug Wingler is leading with assists with 4.1 per game. The Tigers entered the KIAC conference tournament playing well, but they fell short. The Tigers dropped to Georgetown by one point. This loss shattered any hope of a district seat. The Tigers are looking forward to next year's season with the loss of only one senior, Peter Distefano. The Tigers should be top contenders for the conference title.

Campbellsville, We Love Thee

Campbellsville, we love thee and we hail thy name;
Thou hast been a blessing and thou art still the same;
Highest praise and honor we do gladly bring to thee,
We will sing in gratitude, eternally.

Campbellsville, God bless thee, keep thy standards high;
May God's presence linger and hearts to Him draw nigh;
When thy task on earth is o'er and learning there's begun,
May thou hear the voice of God, "Well done, well done."

Twenty-Seventh Commencement

By Lisa Richerson

"This is your graduation. March Proudly," Campbellsville College Registrar William Thomas Biggs, gave precommencement advice Sunday as 102 Campbellsville College seniors graduated. The ceremony was held at Campbellsville Baptist Church.

Diplomas will be given upon completion of all course and degree requirements. There were 79 bachelor of Science degrees and three associate of Science degrees awarded, 13 bachelor of arts degrees, and seven bachelor of music degrees awarded.

Dr. W. R. Davenport, president of Campbellsville College, presided over the ceremony.

Wendell H. Ford, senior United States Senator from Kentucky, delivered the commencement speech. "Campbellsville College is well known for its academic excellence. It is respected for its values and moral standards. One of the finest moments in life is as a graduate. I am proud of you," he said. "No resource is as precious as you, our graduates, and your storehouse of thoughts and ideas. Never doubt that you can handle what the future might bring. Talent and fresh ideas pave the way of quality of life for everyone," he added. I challenge you to use what you have learned to the fullest, but most importantly never stop learning and be involved," he said. He was presented an honorary doctor of law degree.

Dr. W. R. Mann, a physician in Campbellsville, received the Distinguished Alumnus Award for his years of service to the community.

Davenport also honored 51st District State Representative Herman W. Rattliff and 16th District State Senator Douglas D. Moseley. Both received Distinguished Service Awards; both have recently retired concluding their eighth and third terms, respectively.

Dolores (Dee) Gilliland, Women's Missionary Union executive director/treasurer in Kentucky, also received the Distinguished Service Award. She delivered the baccalaureate address May 10 at Campbellsville Baptist Church.

"I believe that everyone of you car be instrumental. It is we who choose who we are. To live is to choose horizontal relationships, (between you and me) and vertical relationships (between you and God) Choose life and live it to the fullest Experience what God has in store fo you. Don't wait for Him to push, go ahead because He has already told you what to do."

"Those who fail to plan, plan to fail. You may choose not to do a thing, that is your choice, or you may plan to achieve. Choose to be without fear. Don't be afraid to make mistakes," she added.

Collegiate Chorale

By Melissa York

The Collegiate Chorale Handbell Choir participated in their spring tour February 28-March 8, performing in Georgia, two cities in Alabama, and six different cities in Florida.

According to Margaret Whitehead, co-historian of the Chorale, the 29-member group performed sacred repertoire everywhere except at Walt Disney World, which is more of an entertainment complex. These programs were varied and some had special effects.

"Fiddler on the Roof" and "Jinglin' Janglin' Rag" were choreographed. Whitehead believes this is a first for the Chorale.

"Fanfare for the Bells" was memorized by the 15 handbell members and played from the aisles.

Other highlights of the trip included Disney World, because after performing to a capacity crowd they were able to spend the rest of the day sight-seeing. While in Dover, Florida, which is the winter strawberry capital of the world, the town was celebrating their annual strawberry festival. "Everything we ate there had strawberries in it!" Whitehead chuckled.

At Melbourne, Florida, the group took out time to look at the ocean before performing. This was a first for many of the singers.

Another highlight was Steve Henry, former campus minister intern, coming to the performance in Decatur, Alabama. He lives close to there. Next year, chorale will tour Washington, D.C.
